

A City & Guilds Group Collaboration

Fuelling your apprentice's journey

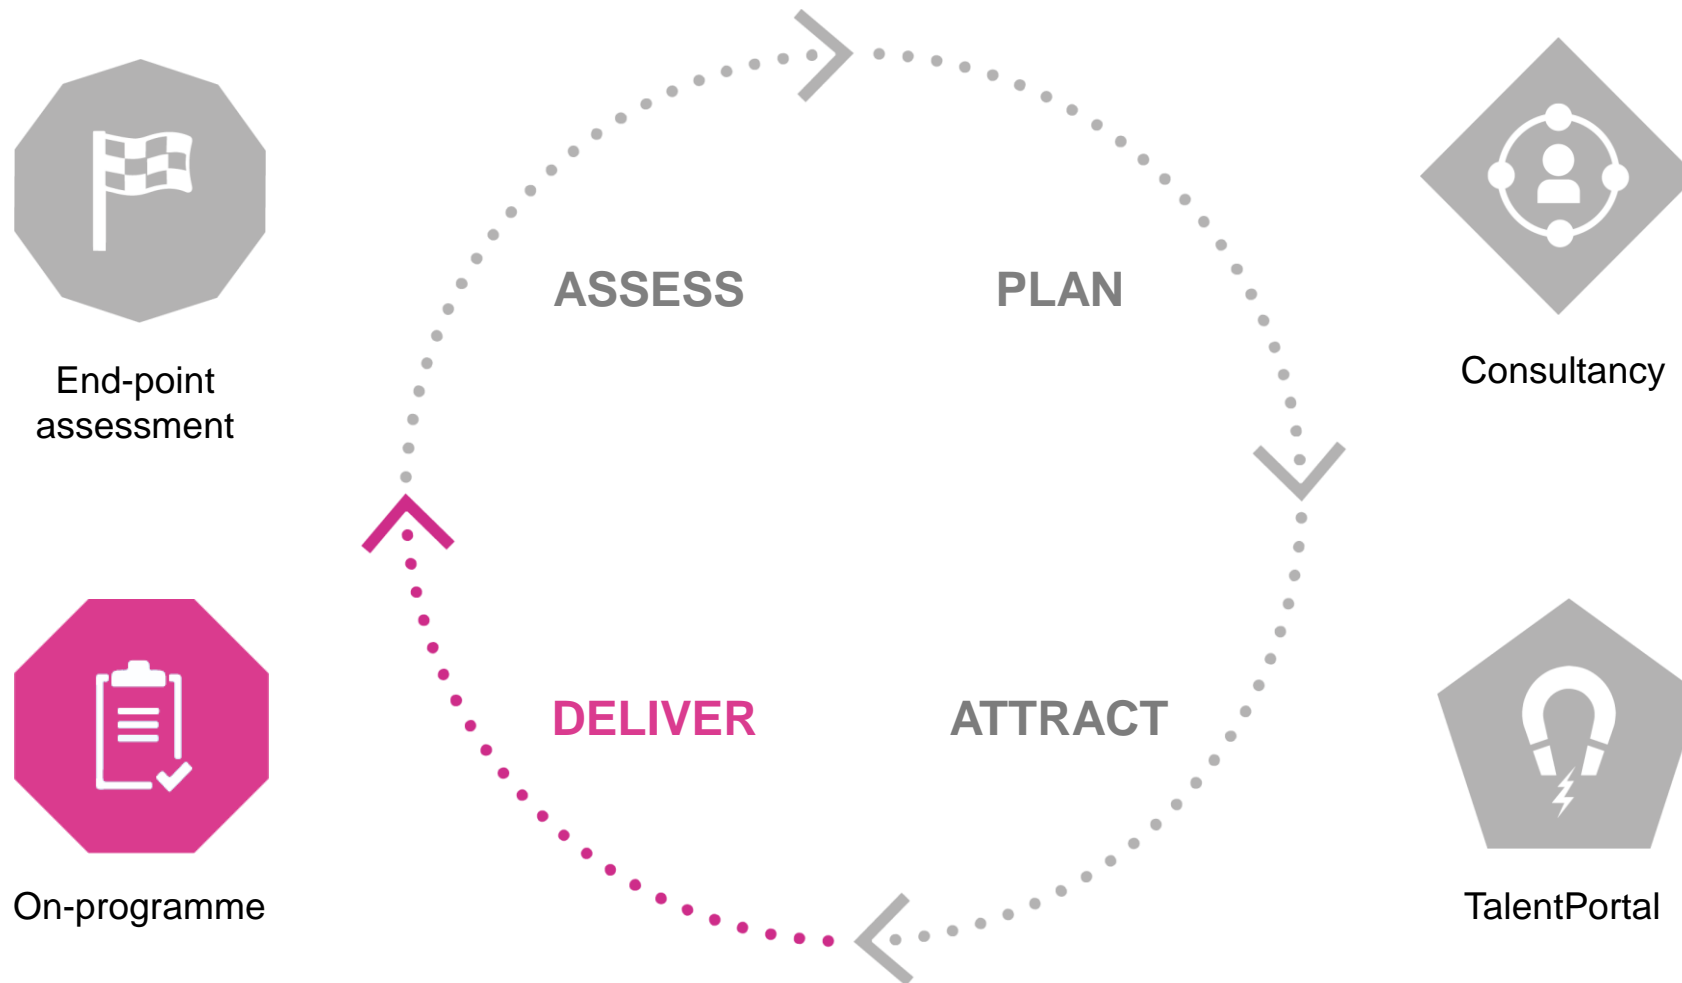

Driving competence and confidence with our get to gateway content

Emma Husthwaite, Digital Solutions Manager

Thursday 29 March 2018

Our end-to-end service

A consistent, successful on-programme experience

How do I...

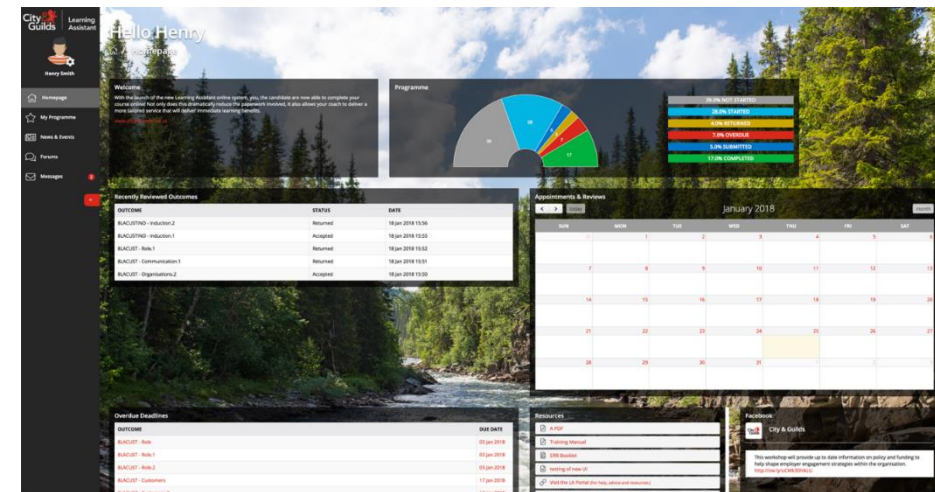

- ...check the performance of our programmes and ensure apprentices are being prepared for their EPA?
- ...manage a programme/structure to our delivery when there's no formal qualification in the standard?
- ...ensure consistent quality assurance for each apprentice's journey across our diverse organisation?
- ...deliver a first-class, blended learning experience to the apprentice that inspires them and gives them the best chance of success?

Tailored content at your own pace, in your own space

Supported trial April 2018

- Full coverage of Customer Service Practitioner standard to support the entire apprenticeship journey up to gateway, making sure the apprentice is really ready for EPA.
- High-quality learning content in the right place to support your blended learning delivery.
- Online access means it's on-demand.
- Works on mobile, tablet and PC so apprentices have access to learning whenever and wherever they want.
- Assessors engage online for admin, less time on the road means more time coaching.
- Learner access and delivery team access, online communication, submission of tasks and activities showing apprentice progress.
- A way to evidence 20% off-the-job training.

Want to be part of our supported trial?

- A complete web-based package for the on-programme phase of some of the new apprenticeships. It drives preparation for assessment and helps your apprentice get to gateway.
- If you're delivering, or soon delivering, the new Customer Service Practitioner apprenticeship standard, then you can be a part of our latest innovation.

 Complete coverage of the standard

 Tracking tools and reporting

 Tasks and e-learning

 Assessment practice

 20% off-the-job training evidence

A City & Guilds Group Collaboration

For more information please contact:

digitalsales@cityandguilds.com

or call 01924 206709

